JOURNEY THROUGH TIME
Amidst Centuries of Culture and Commerce

Malacca, Malaysia: Guests staying at The Majestic Malacca can relive history through a fascinating guided historical walk offered complimentary to hotel guests. Lead daily by The Majestic Malacca's own resident historian, the informative walk passing prominent historical landmarks of this 600 year-old coastal port, weaving a beguiling journey through an enchanting heritage.

The walk traces a route to Malacca's history, transporting guests back to the 16th century when Malacca was the cosmopolitan city of commerce. It begins along the Malacca River and passes through significant historical landmarks of the city's history such as the Stadthuys, built in 1650 as the official residence of Dutch Governors, the edifice is a fine example of Dutch architecture and preserved in its original structure and form in bright red and The Victorian Fountain that was a gift from Queen Victoria to the Straits Settlements. Other landmarks include St. Paul's Church which was originally a chapel built by Duarte Coelho but was turned by the Dutch into a burial ground for their noble dead and renamed St. Paul's Church from the Portuguese's 'Our Lady Of The Hill' where St. Francis Xavier was enshrined in the open grave in 1553 before being shipped to Goa, India, and Porta De Santiago also known as A Famosa, Malacca's hallmark and perhaps the most photographed subject next to the Stadthuys, was built by the Portuguese in 1511 as a fortress and sustained severe structural damage during the Dutch Invasion, leaving only remains of the fort's entrance today.
